Battle to get back in Britain

A HEAD teacher and a businessman were just two of the stranded travellers who made epic journeys to get home after their flights were cancelled because of volcanic ash.

Ros Bunting, head of Thurlow Primary School, was on holiday near Valencia, in Spain, and Jim Morgan of Wrating Road, Haverhill, was in Zurich, Switzerland, at the HQ of his employers, Kraft Foods.

Taxi driver Keith Donno, from Haverhill, who had been due to pick up Mr Morgan from the airport, found himself travelling to Amsterdam and back to pick up another stranded passenger instead.

Mrs Bunting, who finally arrived home on Tuesday after a coach journey of more than 30 hours, was able to return to the tiny village school yesterday.

She said: "We were not able to enjoy the extra days because we were so anxious about how we were going to get back."

"We got on a coach to Paris with no idea how we would get home from there."

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

There was a good spirit on the coach, they were mainly English people and a few French.

"It was a great relief to get home and really we were quite lucky. A lot of people waited a lot longer."

Mr Morgan, who regularly spends four days a week in Zurich, said he had managed to get on a TGV train to Paris, then dashed along the platform to catch a Eurostar train. He said: "The French train drivers were threatening a strike, so I was not sure if we would actually be able to get home."

"Herz wanted 200 euros for a car and as Keith Donno was travelling back from Amsterdam we were going to meet him in Lille if we could not get a train."

"I got to see a lot of French countryside that you don't normally see and I was home in bed by 25 past midnight, which was not bad at all considering what some people went through."

Several teachers at other schools in Haverhill were delayed in getting back from their Easter break, but all schools opened as normal.

Top shot!: the family of five-year-old Eleanor Gamble were celebrating this week after she became potentially the youngest girl in the world to sink a hole-in-one. The young golfer drove the ball 86 yards over a lake, round a bunker and straight into the cup on the par three hole to rapturous applause from fellow golfers. See full story – Page 8.

Companies win 'best business' honours

THREE companies have officially gained 'Best Business' status and received certificates from the 'Best of Haverhill' group.

The three companies had each received five testimonials since joining the group, which met at the Days Inn Hotel.

Fiona Pilcher from Fiona's, which specialises in floristry for weddings, funerals and corporate events, was recommended for "talented floristry, being passionate about what they do, having inspiring ideas and offering great prices".

The Days Inn Haverhill received a certificate for "customer focus, smart solutions and professionalism. They offer great quality, best value accommodation and a top class service".

The final certificate was presented to Selina Austin, of local brand consultancy and marketing communications agency, The Design Office. They were recommended for their "versatility, commitment and vision. They are brand champions with an honest, expert and professional approach".

New scheme: Chris Edwards, Ann Lummm and Glenn Edwards with the certificate.

Five-star rating for fish and chippy

A FAMILY-RUN fish and chip shop which has been operating for more than half a century has become the first takeaway to receive a new hygiene certificate.

Chippy's Fish & Chip takeaway has been established in Haverhill for more than 54 years and has just been awarded the new St Edmundsbury Council hygiene star rating certificate called 'Scores on the doors'.

Glenn Edwards from Chippy's said: "We are very pleased to have been the first takeaway in Haverhill to have been awarded the maximum five stars certificate for our shop on the Chalkstone estate and also a five stars certificate for our mobile fish and chip lorry that serves local villages close to Haverhill."

The scheme will be the new way that customers using any establishment serving food in Suffolk can check the standard of food safety management and safety legislation by how many stars have been awarded to them, with five stars being the maximum.

The certificate will be placed on the front door of the business so the public can view it. Customers can check out the business star ratings at www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk/food which will be live from the end of May.

Mr Edwards said the awards points system took everything into consideration and it had taken Chippy's two years to achieve the standards required by the environmental department at St Edmundsbury for the new award. They had been awarded the previous Prestige Health and Hygiene Award Certificate every year right up to 2009.

Police bid to hand back stolen goods

POLICE are inviting burglary victims from Haverhill and the surrounding areas to get in touch with them after items of property were recovered.

More than 85 items, including power tools and gardening equipment, were recovered from a property in Essex last November and officers are hoping to reunite them with their owners.

The items will be on display to the public at Haverhill

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Police Station on Saturday between 11am and 1pm.

There will be a requirement to provide some proof of the item belongs to you, such as serial numbers, sales receipts or photographs.

The aim of the initiative is to reunite as many people with their property as possible.

Officers have already had some success matching owners and their property.

A similar property roadshow has already been held in Great Dunmow to give people living in North Essex the chance to identify their property.

Pc Sandra Wiggins said: "We believe that many of these items originally come from South-West Suffolk or North-West Essex and may have been stolen from June 2009 onwards.

"Officers have been researching crimes and working with neighbouring forces to try to identify their owners.

"We have a vast array of tools and other items worth many thousands of pounds which must belong to someone.

"We are asking anyone who may have been the victim of a burglary where similar objects were taken to get in touch with us so we can see if your property is among the items recovered."

The pieces recovered range from tools, power tools, and powered garden tools to generators, compressors and jet washers.

Traders fail to turn up for talks about market

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

NOT a single market trader turned up for a meeting to discuss what could be done to help Haverhill's market survive and prosper.

Cllr Anne Gower, St Edmundsbury Borough Council's lead councillor for Haverhill, said she was "very disappointed" that traders did not attend last Friday's scheduled meeting.

It was attended by members of the National Association of British Market Authorities (NABMA) as part of a £6,000 study commissioned by the council to see how best to promote and enhance the town's market.

It includes a planned move of the Friday market from the Market Square into the High Street, where the Saturday market already takes place.

Cllr Gower said: "I am extremely disappointed.

"I understand that [trader] Paul Firman came to say that he could not stay for the meeting, but that one-one else turned up. The whole point of the meeting was to give them an opportunity, without any other stakeholders present, to say whatever they wanted.

"It was the traders themselves who said if we did not do something there would not be a Friday market and I am doing my best to get them on the High Street.

"I was asked to help them and I am absolutely determined to help them, but I need their input to do it.

"The problem now that we don't have it, is we now going to be accused of foisting things upon them.

"We had a meeting for shop traders in the afternoon and we were able to put forward any ideas, however wacky, anyone had and discuss them freely.

"The NABMA took on board everything we said. I know it is costing £6,000, but it will be well worth it if we get ideas and suggestions that make the market more robust.

"I think part of the problem was that the traders thought it was pre-judged, that we are going to privatise it, but that is not the case.

"The association represents predominantly markets run by public authorities and will be looking globally at what we can learn and how we can enhance and protect the market. I will be going to talk to the traders on Friday and perhaps we will use a questionnaire to make sure that we have their input."

Anyone who wants to comment on the market can email Cllr Gower on ann.gower@stedsb.gov.uk or phone (01440) 706702.

A NEW supermarket helped keep more than 100 youngsters occupied during their Easter holiday with free football coaching sessions.

A total of 130 players took part over two days at Samuel Ward Upper School in Haverhill, led by FA coaches and sponsored by the nearby Tesco supermarket.

Claire Bowden, Tesco community champion at Haverhill, said the sessions had been a great success and more would take place during the summer holidays.

The two-hour sessions have been developed by the FA and to suit the learning needs of younger players, they include activities to help co-ordination, learn basic techniques and improve football skills, all under the watchful eye of expert coaches.

Stephen Jordan, from the Suffolk FA Skills Team who runs the FA Tesco Skills Programme on a Friday evening at Samuel Ward, said: "All the children had a fantastic time and the other coaches and I were impressed with the ability of some of the children."

Ms Bowden, who gave free water and snacks out to the children at half-time, said: "It was great to see all the children having fun, learning new skills and making new friends."

"Thanks to Stephen, Jamie, Spencer and Matt who made it really enjoyable for everyone and I look forward to the summer holiday sessions, where I hope we will see even more children."

The FA Tesco Skills Programme is led by the FA and supported by Tesco and Sport England.

Couple's plea to aid research

A COUPLE celebrating their Ruby Wedding anniversary in June are asking for donations to Cancer Research UK instead of presents.

Bridget and Barry Bishop, of Parkside, Haverhill, are also organising a raffle for the charity.

The couple will celebrate their anniversary on June 6 and will hold a party on Saturday, June 5.

Mrs Bishop has already starting asking local businesses for raffle prizes and hopes to collect as much as possible by the time of the anniversary.

She said: "My husband had cancer and that is why we are going for a research charity. So many people have cancer and research will always carry on."

"I am already getting raffle prizes given to me, so it is a good start."

Anyone who wants to donate cash or prizes can phone (01440) 702378,

£167k blaze at chapel

A FIRE in a cemetery chapel has destroyed the building and cleaning equipment stored there.

The damage is estimated at £167,000.

Police are appealing for information about the blaze at Church Lane, Clare between 3.40am and 5.40am on Sunday. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Rebecca Gardiner at Haverhill Police on 01284 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Find the key to cash prize

MEMBERS of Haverhill's Ex-Servicemen's Club could find themselves £2,000 better off by paying a visit there on Sunday. There are only two keys left in the 'members key' draw, which takes place on Sundays at around 1.30pm at the club in Quakers Lane.

Would-be thieves target petrol station

A PETROL station has been targeted by thieves on two consecutive days, with an attempted ram raid on the second occasion, but nothing was stolen.

Police are linking the offences at North Street Garages in Manor Road, Haverhill.

The first happened at around 1am on Tuesday.

Two men drove up to the petrol station from Ehringshausen Way in a dark coloured Subaru Impreza estate with alloy wheels, before forcing the doors of the shop and damaging a cash machine inside. Nothing was stolen and the men left in the car towards the Chalkstone estate.

The males are described as white and wearing black balaclavas, blue jeans and blue hooded tops. One wore yellow gloves and white trainers, the other wore white gloves and black trainers.

Between 2am and 2.15am yesterday at the same petrol station, offenders used a vehicle to force entry but nothing was stolen.

Officers are now studying CCTV footage and speaking to a number of witnesses.

Calls in relation to either of these incidents should be made to A/DS James Rolfe at West Suffolk CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Spotlight on the Land Girls

THE Land Army in East Anglia is the topic at the April meeting of the Haverhill and District Local History Group next Wednesday.

Lynda Burrows' talk is based on interviews with some of the former Land Girls who replaced the agricultural workers called up to the military during the Second World War. The hours were long, the pay was low, and they were called upon to do anything from cutting down trees to catching rats.

The talk is in the Haverhill Arts Centre Studio at 7.30 pm. Admission is free to members and £2 for visitors. Refreshments are available.

Brush thief's clean getaway

MORE than 7,000 toothbrushes were stolen from a warehouse in Haverhill.

A man in a small white van drove to the rear of a warehouse in Colne Valley Road, Haverhill, at around 10.30am last Wednesday, before entering on foot and stealing 50 boxes of Wisdom toothbrushes. The boxes, labelled Asda, contained a total of 7,200 brushes.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to the Crime Investigation Bureau (CIB) on (01473) 613500 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Tory hopeful addresses businessmen

MEMBERS of a business group were joined by Conservative parliamentary candidate Matthew Hancock on a guided tour of their town's new football complex – which is due to open next month.

Haverhill Enterprise members and Mr Hancock were told by Haverhill Rovers' president Terry McGerty, who conducted the tour, that the new facility is due to open in early May.

The enterprise group was more than impressed with the excellent layout and facilities on offer.

Tom Harrison, chair of the Haverhill Community Sport Association Committee, told the visitors that the borehole currently being drilled will ensure all the pitches will not suffer during any dry spell.

On offer are changing rooms for home and away teams with full facilities for people of all ages and genders wanting to play football.

He said the complex would be a legacy for generations to come.

Haverhill Enterprise then held its normal monthly meeting at which Mr Hancock told of his ambitions for Haverhill.

Members challenged him on several concerns the group has about the town, not least a poor retail offer and getting the Western bypass moving.

Combined action to stop drug

POLICE and Trading Standards officers in Suffolk are taking positive action in response to new Home Office legislation banning the drug mephedrone.

Since last Friday, mephedrone and other related substances, previously known as 'legal highs' will be controlled as class B drugs.

As a result, police are making personal visits to known suppliers of psychoactive substances, advising them on the changes.

It is now illegal to sell, possess or import the drugs.

Temporary Detective Superintendent Steve Mattin said "These drugs have been reclassified following evidence of associated health risks.

"As a result, we are working with our partners to approach known suppliers and to advise them of these laws to avoid them carrying out any criminal activity. We have already had a good response, with suppliers agreeing to stop selling a number of items whilst enquiries take place to establish if offences are being committed.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"These drugs can have extremely harmful effects. Anyone in possession of a psychoactive substance purchased as a legal or herbal high is encouraged to hand it in to a local police station."

Matthew Spall, Trading Standards Officer, said: "Suffolk Trading Standards, with the assistance of Suffolk Constabulary, have been able to identify shops in the county which may be selling these items. We've therefore been able to contact the shop owners and advise that they should remove any such products from their shelves.

"Linking up in this successful way has meant that people in the county are protected against this substance."

Call-girl's driver fined over hotel room assault

BY JACK GROVE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MARRIED man from Haverhill has admitted assaulting a woman involved in prostitution in a Cambridge hotel room.

David Byrne, 39, also pleaded guilty to sending the woman – known to punters as Nina – dozens of threatening text messages following the attack at the Cambridge Travelodge in Clifton Way on January 16.

Paul Brown, prosecuting, told Cambridge Magistrates' Court how Byrne, who had a job driving prostitutes around the city, met the woman at the hotel to go for a drive after visiting his wife and children.

He said: "He returned to see her in Cambridge at about 8.30pm. He was saying 'Be careful what you say because I am on edge. He said to her 'I will pull over the car and throttle with one hand'.

"She was scared about what had happened, but she later went up to the hotel room. He slapped the right side of her face, which caused her to fall off the bed."

The victim told police that Byrne began sending her abusive text messages on January 18, sending between five to seven texts a day.

Byrne, of Duddery Hill, pleaded guilty to assault and harassment, but claimed he was being threatened by the woman.

Christopher Dignam, mitigating, said: "He had been out of work for some time and he took a job as a driver. It was soon clear he was driving prostitutes as they carried out their business.

"He left because he was not happy with what he was doing, but he was contacted by this person. He had been warned by other people about this woman's character.

"On this occasion she was drunk and very aggressive. She hit him across the nose with a stiletto. It was a knee-jerk reaction when he lashed out and hit her, knocking her over.

"He then received very aggressive and nasty text messages and he replied in kind."

Mr Dignam rejected claims by the woman Byrne was having an affair with her.

Byrne was fined £200 for assaulting the woman, who cannot be named for legal reasons, and ordered to pay £85 costs and a £15 victim impact surcharge.

He was also handed a 12-month restraining order to prevent him from contacting the woman.

Hopefuls outline party policies

A LIVELY debate between three of the five candidates vying to represent Haverhill at Westminster was hosted by a new business group in the town.

Candidates fighting to fill the West Suffolk seat are Abdul Ohid Ahmed (Labour), Matthew Hancock (Conservative) and Dr Belinda Brooks-Gordon (Liberal Democrat), Andrew Appleby (Ind) and Ian Smith (UKIP).

Richard Spring, who represented constituency for 17 years, has stood down.

Mr Ahmed told the Best of Haverhill meeting that he was a serving councillor and cabinet member with Tower Hamlets Council in London.

He believed the Labour government had saved jobs and homes, delivered lower interest and business rates, as well as tax concessions to help small businesses.

He said: "At Tower Hamlets we have done a lot of work with town centre management, like shop front schemes and small business loans. I think we can do the same here and I hope the people of Haverhill will support Labour.

"I think if we let the Conservatives win, there is a risk that the recession will continue."

Matthew Hancock, an

Race to Westminster: three of the five candidates for the West Suffolk seat, Abdul Ohid Ahmed, Belinda Brooks-Gordon and Matthew Hancock spoke at a meeting of Best of Haverhill last week to outline their policies.

economist who worked at the Bank of England and has just moved to Thurlow, also hoped to champion small business interests if elected.

Echoing party leader David Cameron, he claimed Labour's planned National Insurance increase was "a tax on jobs" which the Conservatives would scrap. Money instead would be raised by "cutting wasteful spending in the public sector".

He said: "At a local level here in Haverhill we will help businesses to grow and create high income jobs.

"We need a strong government to support business and get the economy going again. If we want strong leadership to turn our country round, there is only one way – to get rid of Gordon Brown, by voting Conservative."

Dr Brooks-Gordon, currently a Cambridgeshire county councillor, who worked for many years as a beautician before gaining a PHD in law, said she was "used to standing up for people".

She claimed the seat was "not as safe as the Conservative Party believed" and assured the electorate that a Liberal Democrat vote would not be wasted.

She called for safeguards against "corporate grabbing", less red tape and a fairer system of spreading the tax burden.

She said: "I would press for better public transport, I would like to see the guided busway make its way to Haverhill.

"People like Liberal Democrat MPs because they have integrity and support local people."

Police link reports of cash theft

TWO more reports of theft by a man asking shoppers for change have been made to Suffolk Police, who are already investigating two earlier incidents.

One of the latest incidents was in Market Hill, Clare, at around 11am on Monday, when a man asked a woman for change in a supermarket. She gave him a small amount and he walked off with an item from the shelves. She later found cash was missing from her purse.

The man is described as in his 30s, of large build, 5ft 9in tall with dark brown, short receding hair and was wearing dark clothing. He spoke in broken English.

On the same day in High Street, Cavendish, at around 10.30am, a man asked a woman for change in the street. She gave him a small amount and he walked away. She then found cash had been stolen from her purse.

The man is described as of Asian appearance, of large build with collar-length black hair and was wearing a dark coloured jacket. He spoke with a foreign accent.

Police are linking these crimes to a similar theft from a woman in Crown Passage, Haverhill, between 12.10pm and 12.15pm on Monday and one at Hadleigh at 10.10am the same day.

Shoppers are reminded to keep their purses and bags secure at all times and only to assist someone who asks for help if you are happy to do so. Any suspicious people should be reported to police.

Calls in relation to these incidents should be made to Sgt Kevin Horton on (01284) 774100 or Crime-stoppers on 0800 555 111.

Open letter to Gordon Brown

Sir, An open letter to Gordon Brown:

Is it your policy now, to have a go at the elderly? Let's stop the elderly having a reason for living by making sure they cannot afford the care and enjoyment and company they get when they go to their day centres?

Our Salvation Army Day Centre is under threat of closure because you in your wisdom (ha ha) have now successfully stopped the funding from the social services, thereby putting the whole of the cost onto the pensioners and the people who run these centres.

For some of the elderly this is the only contact with others and one day a week out of the house that they get. Are they now being punished for living so long? It seems that these days and with your Government the only people to benefit in every way are the criminals and immigrants who get the best of everything money can buy and the huge amounts of money that are sent abroad. Of course, I realise that you have to toady to the rest of the world, but why does it have to be at the expense of the British people, some of whom fought for this country and most of the elderly paid their taxes all their working lives? So come on ladies and gents, give credit where credit is due by making sure that the social services can still help to fund our most important day care centres.

Direct money to eco challenges

Sir, Global climate change threatens us all, and we in this country need to devote our diminishing financial resources to combating real and present dangers such as flooding, which are starting to affect us directly. Current Government plans for replacing the Trident nuclear missile system at a cost of more than £75 billion are irrational and immoral. Many people in this country think that scrapping this US-operated system should be a priority for our next parliament. We at the Havepeace group in Haverhill are asking our prospective candidates where they stand on this issue.

Do you recognise anyone in the picture or know what the event was? Do you know where and when it was taken?

Send your answers to: Memories, Haverhill Weekly News, 4 Queen Street, Haverhill, CB9 9EF by Tuesday morning, or email editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, showed traffic warden Joan Key with children in Haverhill. It was taken in July, 1986.

Ami Dockerill had no trouble recognising the picture – she was in it. She said: "What a surprise to see this! I'm the little girl with the traffic warden's hat on. "My brothers, David and Daniel, are standing behind and I'm sitting next to my dad, Bernard Dockerill. "This was taken in the summer of 1987, which made me 4 years old and my brothers 7 and 5 years old. It was taken on the market square. "This is nice to see. Thanks."

Criticism was 'inappropriate'

Sir, I was a somewhat disappointed that Cllr Maureen Byrne (Labour) inappropriately used her criticism of Cllr Gordon Cox to condemn Conservative councillors in general for his actions (Many issues need support – Letters, April 15).

She is fully aware that Cllr Cox is something of a loose cannon who seems to try to prevent any form of progress in the town.

I fully agree with all Cllr Byrne's other comments relative to Cllr Cox – I am not exactly sure who he represents, since he is wholly critical and seeks to stop any progressive opportunities in Haverhill.

Councillors are hosting surgery

Sir, On Saturday, Cllrs Les Ager and Anne Gower will be in the Studio in the Arts Centre, Haverhill, and would be pleased to see any residents who have an issue or a problem they would like some help with. We will be in the arts centre from 10am until noon and hope to see you there.

LETTERS POLICY

Letters should arrive by noon on the Monday before publication. Full name and address must be supplied and details will be withheld only in exceptional circumstances. Letters should be no longer than 250 words and may be edited.

Chamber of commerce to showcase town's businesses

BUSINESSES in Haverhill will get the chance to showcase their products and services at a trade fair organised by the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday.

The Haverhill Chamber of Commerce Member Showcase, which takes place at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College, is this year open to all businesses in the Haverhill area. Entry to the showcase, from 6pm to 9pm, is free for members of the public.

A free employment law workshop will take place during the evening, run by local solicitors Stevens and Adams Harrison, along with a business card draw to win a bottle of champagne.

Sarah Howard, chairman of the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, said: "We have opened up our showcase to allow both members and non members to exhibit this year.

"This is a great networking event and a chance to find out about businesses in Haverhill and the chamber. If you are an established business in the town or just starting up then this is a great way to make contacts and promote your services."

Overjoyed: Eleanor Gamble, 5, is all smiles after sinking a hole-in-one at Cambridge Lakes Golf Club

Hot-shot Ellie has hole-in-one

THE family of a five-year-old golfer were celebrating this week after she became potentially the youngest girl in the world to sink a hole-in-one.

Tiny Eleanor Gamble drove the ball 86 yards over a lake, round a bunker and straight into the cup on the par three hole to rapturous applause from fellow golfers.

The 3ft 5in tall youngster was playing in an Easter juniors contest with brother Jacob, 10, at Cambridge Lakes golf course on April 15 when she made the miracle shot.

Proud dad David Gamble, 34, who was watching with Eleanor's visiting great grandparents, said she was still "over the moon" at the incredible feat.

David, of West Wrattling, said Eleanor only took up golf two years ago aged three, and was just trying to get the ball across the stretch of water.

He said: "She keeps saying 'I can't believe I got a hole-in-one'."

"She got the ball over the water and then it hopped over a bunker and someone shouted that she had got it in. We were all quite speechless really."

Eleanor's grand aunt Ann Mortimer, 51, who was watching with her Eleanor's great grandparents Noel Hourihan, 81, and Lena, 78, said the family were overjoyed.

Ann, who travelled over with Noel and Lena from Cork, Ireland, would have missed the magical moment but their return flights had been cancelled due to the volcanic ash.

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

David, who runs his own pharmaceutical firm, has now contacted Guinness World Records as he believes she is three years younger than the current hole-in-one holder.

He said: "I think she might have broken a record because the youngest female hole-in-one golfer listed on the Guinness World Records website is by an eight-year-old from America."

"Eleanor has smashed the record by three years. We submitted an application and now we're waiting to hear back from them."

"We are all very proud of her, especially her brother Jacob who plays for the county."

Bob Barnes, owner of Cambridge Lakes, a nine-hole, par three course, said Eleanor left the 25 other players aged five to 17 in the competition speechless.

He said: "She could be a record holder. Everyone is very proud. To hit it that distance at her age alone is remarkable. She is a very talented little golfer."

"I've been at the club for 10 years and this is the first time anything like this has happened. It is incredible. A truly remarkable achievement."

Men seen carrying off speakers

TWO men were seen carrying away speakers from a house in Haverhill on Monday night.

The house in Connaught Road was entered by unknown means between 7.20pm and 7.30pm and a stereo and speakers were stolen.

Two men were seen outside the property carrying a speaker each, then walking off towards Burton End.

The first is described as white, around 5 ft tall, in his late 20s, of slim build with a scar on his face and wearing a black cap. The second is described as white, 5 ft 6 in tall, in his late 20s, of slim build and wearing a beanie hat.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Maria Allgood at West Suffolk CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Crime at lowest level for almost a decade

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

CRIME in Suffolk is at its lowest for almost a decade, according to the latest police statistics.

There were 46,447 crimes recorded between April 2009 and March this year – 4,045 fewer crimes than in the same period in 2001/2002.

The figures show overall crime fell by 0.2 per cent, with 94 fewer crimes recorded than in the same period in 2008/09.

The latest annual performance figures were released by Suffolk Constabulary on Monday, but also reveal some crimes have risen.

Violent crime increased by 7 per cent and domestic burglary increased by 14 per cent.

However, vehicle crime fell by 18 per cent, with 834 fewer crimes, robbery decreased by 9 per cent and criminal damage decreased by 8 per cent, with 890 fewer incidents.

The number of drugs offences recorded has decreased by 14 per cent, but drug trafficking offences have increased by 39 per cent.

Police say this is a reflection of the constabulary's pro-active approach to tackling organised drug-related crime – 130 more drug dealers were dealt with during 2009/10 than in 2008/09.

Temporary assistant chief constable Stewart Gull said: "Suffolk remains a safe county and crime has decreased again this year, despite the challenge that a national recession can bring, so this is extremely pleasing.

"However, these figures really only give a snapshot of some of the elements that we as a constabulary police in the county.

"Through extensive consultation and surveys, local residents say they want us to tackle anti-social behaviour – this is our number one priority this year."

Footballers host their twin team

ANGLO-FRENCH relations received a boost when young footballers crossed the channel to take on teams in their English twin town.

Mayor of St Edmundsbury Cllr Pat Warby hosted a civic reception for Michel Hétroy, Mayor of Châtillon-sur-Indre and his partner Geneviève Bejaud, as well as Yves Piot, member of the cabinet responsible for sport and the Olympics.

The reception was held at the Discovery Centre in St Edmundsbury Cathedral, in Bury St Edmunds.

The 14-year-old members of the football team were accompanied by members of a community group in Châtillon responsible for organising and fundraising for the visit to Clare.

The French party arrived on Monday, April 12, with the civic reception held the following day when there was also ten pin bowling and swimming for children.

Present at the reception were members of Les Amis de Châtillon et Clare (LACC), Reception host: Mayor of St Edmundsbury Cllr Pat Warby greets Michel Hétroy, Mayor of Chatillon-sur-Indre and his partner Genevieve Bejaud, left.

Christopher Coombes MBE, president of LACC, and his partner Mrs Julia Tranter, Mr and Mrs Bill Chowns, Mr and Mrs David Maynard, borough councillors Lynsey Alexander and Jane Bone, Keith Haisman, chairman of Clare Parish Council, John Martin, chairman of Clare Playing Field Association, Alaric Pugh, chairman of Clare Business Association, Canon John Rankin and Ron Longland, Clare/Châtillon Liaison in Clare.

Other events included a dinner hosted by Clare Town Lions, a tour of Clare, including the Ancient House Museum, as well as football games for the youngsters between teams from Clare, Chatillon and Bures.

The visitors also had time to visit London, including a tour of the Tottenham Hotspurs football stadium, before returning to France on Friday.

A twinning arrangement between Clare and Chatillon-sur-Indre in France began in 2008 and the latest footballers' visit will be followed by return matches in France in July.

Rising to challenge: Mick Pilling wants to raise cash for Macmillan Cancer Care.

CP

Cancer fighter Mick to take on mountain

A man who lost his mother, father and twin brother to cancer all within seven years – as well as having to fight the disease himself – is to climb Ben Nevis next month as part of a group of 100 cancer patients.

Mick Pilling, 57, a former Army chef who now works as an administrator for the bowel cancer survey programme at Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge, is currently awaiting the all-clear from doctors five years after he was diagnosed with head and neck cancer.

In 1998, his mother died and in 2001, he lost his father, both to different forms of cancer. In 2005, his twin brother Alan died from cancer aged just 52, and Mick had just finished his radiotherapy treatment when he attended his brother's funeral.

Mick, of Bishops Court, Haverhill, also acts as a counsellor for other patients suffering from head and neck cancer. He hopes to raise as much as possible for Macmillan Cancer Care, as he has experienced the invaluable work it does first hand.

Mick said: "I once said to a doctor, 'you are the expert' and he told me 'No, you are. You are the one who has experienced it'.

"I was devastated by the loss of my parents and my twin brother all within seven years, and I still am. I also have four sisters, who are all fit and well. The thing with cancer is you cannot predict who is going to get it. Everyone has got it, it just takes the silliest thing to trigger it.

"Ben Nevis is 4,400 feet high and we expect it to take eight to 10 hours. The biggest problem I am going to have is that I have no salivary glands due to the radiotherapy, so I will have to carry six litres of water with me on top of everything else, just to get up and down.

"I was always a keen sportsman, playing badminton and football, but I cannot do that now. I still keep quite fit, I walk 30 miles a week at work at Addenbrooke's and I cycle 10 miles a week from the Babraham Road park and ride site and back. I also walk four miles twice a week, but I have not done any climbing since I left the military in 1992.

"We all have to raise a minimum of £500 and my target is £1,000, of which I have already raised £720. I always do what I can to support Macmillan, because I know what a wonderful job they do."

Market will help town to bloom

SUPPLIERS from all over East Anglia will be selling their wares as a popular gardeners' market holds its first event of the year on Sunday, May 16.

The Haverhill in Bloom Committee is organising the event, which includes a large car boot sale, from 9am to 2pm on the Recreation Ground in Camps Road. Regular stall holders will travel from as far as King's Lynn to offer plants and gardening equipment for sale.

Money raised from the event will help fund floral displays and bulb planting around the town by the committee.

At present, it is working on a scheme to upgrade the churchyard area, to make it provide a better backdrop for photographs after weddings.

Two areas have already been planted out at Queensway and Millfields Way, involving pupils from Castle Manor and Samuel Ward schools.

Helpers are always needed at the event and anyone interested in helping or taking part should contact Valerie Morton on (01440) 709099.

Retiring: Brigitte Haig who has been at Haverhill CAB for 28 years.

CAB manager calls it a day

A LONG-serving Citizens Advice Bureau manager who has been commuting to Haverhill from King's Lynn for 20 years is to retire in July.

Brigitte Haig has spent the past 28 years working at Haverhill CAB, the first seven as a volunteer then as manager for the next 21 years. She will step down from the role on July 30.

Brigitte and her husband Andrew originally came to Haverhill in 1982, when he became the town's parish priest, before moving to King's Lynn in 1990.

Brigitte has been commuting to Haverhill in order to continue in her role of serving the community that had become an important part of her life.

During this time the services provided by CAB have increased not only in volume but in the complexity of cases.

Chris Cadman, chairman of the CAB board of trustees, said: "To give 28 years in providing advice and support wherever and whenever needed is a remarkable achievement for which we are certain the people of Haverhill will be grateful.

"The board of trustees, staff and volunteers wish to record their thanks to Brigitte for her dedication and commitment.

"We wish Brigitte a long and happy retirement.

"On a more personal note I would like to thank Brigitte for the support and advice given to the board of trustees, which has made our role that much easier."

Elementary: Peter Egan and Philip Franks star in The Secret of Sherlock Holmes.

Super sleuths return for dark mind games

YOU can't have Watson without Moriarty. You can't have Moriarty without Watson. And without both of them, there is no Holmes . . .

After playing to sell-out audiences in The Hound of the Baskervilles in 2007, Peter Egan and Philip Franks return to Cambridge Arts Theatre in a new adventure for Baker Street's most famous resident and his faithful sidekick.

Directed by master of suspense Robin Herford, whose creation The Woman in Black has been terrifying theatre audiences for 21 years, The Secret of Sherlock Holmes is a journey into the mind of the legendary super sleuth and his relationships with the two most significant people in his life – his greatest friend, Dr Watson, and his deadly enemy, Professor Moriarty.

Following a seemingly deadly encounter with his nemesis, arch criminal Professor Moriarty, at Reichenbach Falls, secrets and betrayal are slowly revealed: Watson (Franks) finds his loyalty and friendship tested to the very limit, while Holmes (Egan) is forced to turn his unswerving powers of deduction upon himself and the true relationship between Holmes and Moriarty is finally revealed.

"It's a much deeper and darker play than The Hound of the Baskervilles," says Franks, well loved by TV audiences for his roles in The Darling Buds of May and Heartbeat. "We are given a very good insight into the psychology of the two characters, Holmes and Watson. It is a profound play but it is very accessible."

Having previously both worked together for their sell-out tour of The Hound of the Baskervilles, Egan and Franks have found rehearsals for The Secret of Sherlock Holmes easier.

"Because the three of us, including our brilliant

After wowing audiences in 2007, the great detective and his trusty sidekick are back in action this week at the Cambridge Arts Theatre director Robin, have worked together before there is a shorthand – we all click," says Egan, who earned his place in sitcom history in 80s classic Ever Decreasing Circles. "We know how each other likes to work. Because we did The Hound of the Baskervilles, it makes creating the characters much easier and much more fun – we can pick up where we left off. We're not starting from scratch. Philip brings such wonderful humour and a human face to Watson."

But, explains Franks, there is one major difference between the two productions: "This new play is an adventure inside their heads rather than on Exmoor. In rehearsals we were talking about what it reminds us of and we decided that it is a cross between The Odd Couple, End Game and Whatever Happened to Baby Jane!"

Some purists might be concerned by the prospect of a Sherlock Holmes story not penned by the great detective's creator, but writer Jeremy Paul says he has worked hard to find Conan Doyle's voice in his script.

"Many of the words you will hear are Conan Doyle's own, taken on and fashioned into an original mystery which I hope will intrigue Conan Doyle himself if he's looking in," he says.

Besides, Conan Doyle wanted people to "meddle" with his characters; he was open to new ideas and was intrigued to see what his fellow peers would do with Holmes and Watson.

"When the American actor William Gillette wrote the first stage play about Holmes," says Paul, "he sent a telegram to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, asking: 'May I marry Holmes?' Conan Doyle wired back: 'Marry him, murder him or do what you like with him'. With this generous thought – which was typical of Conan Doyle – in mind, I have become the latest in a long line of 'loungers and idlers' who have meddled with the great man's work for pleasure."

"I think it's fantastic that there are new adventures to be had by Holmes and Watson," reflects Egan. "They are such a great team. It would be a sad day when there are no more adventures to be had by them."

Both actors admit the script presented them with a challenge. "We have really had to get to grips with our characters this time round," says Egan. "For those die-hard Sherlock Holmes fans, the new script offers a deeper insight and understanding into the mind of Holmes which no one has seen before. It's exciting but it has been a challenge. I really have had to 'become' Holmes."

The pair are particularly looking forward to their engagement in Cambridge. "I love Cambridge," says Egan affectionately. "The theatre is a favourite for every actor who performs in it."

"It is ideal to end the tour of The Secret of Sherlock Holmes there," adds Franks. "We have had such fun touring this production so I hope people enjoy it as much as we have enjoyed making it."

Carole, Carpenters and Caretaker step on stage

THE ever popular Forever in Blue Jeans band will be taking you back to the 70s to celebrate one of the finest voices of the time.

Voice of the Heart – Karen Carpenter takes to the stage of Haverhill Arts Centre on Saturday. With favourites such as Goodbye to Love, Close to You, and Only Yesterday performed by Carole Gordon, along with great medleys from The Carpenters' many album tracks, this will be a night to remember.

The concert starts at 8pm.

London Classic Productions will present its version of The Caretaker, by Harold Pinter, on Friday, April 30.

Davies, an ageing down-and-out is given shelter by the kindly but vulnerable Aston. He quickly makes himself at home in the squalid, junk-filled room until Mick, Aston's brother, arrives. A battle of wits begins as the brothers seek to manipulate the old man to their respective ends. But Davies has his own agenda and everything is not as it seems.

The drama starts at 8pm.

There's big screen treats galore at the arts centre this week, which kicks off with the final showing of The Last Station (15), starring Helen Mirren, Christopher Plummer and James McAvoy, tomorrow at 7.45pm.

That is followed by The Lovely Bones (12A), based on Alice Sebold's novel and directed by Peter Jackson, which screens next Tuesday and Wednesday at 7.45pm.

Susie, murdered by her neighbour, watches the lives of her family and friends from heaven and attempts to get someone to find her missing body.

Perfect Pinter: London Classic Productions presents The Caretaker next week.

Then there's Crazy Heart (15), which won Jeff Bridges an Oscar for best actor, which shows on Thursday, April 29 at 7.45pm.

Bridges stars as veteran country singer, Bad Blake, who when interviewed by a newspaper reporter realises that his life could be more than pills, booze and endless tours of dead-end towns.

Look out for the arts centre's new cinema brochure for May and June, with goodies including Alice in Wonderland, Invictus, A Single Man, and another showing of Oscar-winner The Hurt Locker (15).

The old Alchemist still a hit

THE Marlowe Society return to Cambridge this week with a new take on Ben Jonson's comic masterpiece, The Alchemist.

Living in a stolen house, Face, Subtle and Dol Common are master con-artists – and making themselves a fortune.

They occupy a vice-ridden London where the desire for wealth and women drives individuals to extremes, and frequently into extraordinary and often farcical situations. Together, the three 'heroes' entice, seduce, befuddle and hustle their way through life, coming across an eclectic array of colourful characters.

First performed in 1610 when it met with great success, The Alchemist is generally considered one of Jonson's finest comic works.

Through it he exposes human folly, weakness and vice. He mocks human weakness and gullibility and exposes the power struggles which take place within small groups of individuals, as well as big cities.

Though written more than 400 years ago, Jonson's precise and enlightened depiction of humanity and the power of the city remain scarily relevant today.

The Alchemist, ADC Theatre, 7.45pm, until Saturday. Tickets £9 (£6 concessions) and can be booked from (01223) 300085 / www.adctheatre.com.

The big film

THE GHOST (15, 128 mins)

Thriller. Pierce Brosnan, Ewan McGregor, Kim Cattrall, Olivia Williams, Tom Wilkinson, Jon Bernthal. Director: Roman Polanski.

FOR a film about the rewriting of a political memoir, it's deliciously ironic that the screenplay for Roman Polanski's thriller should be one of its weaknesses.

Characters are not fully formed in a script co-written by Polanski and Robert Harris, adapting his novel of the same name. Indeed, they are ciphers in a clunky and contrived plot that builds to a big reveal, which would be risible in less accomplished hands.

Not that The Ghost doesn't have its fair share of unintentional laughs: Ewan McGregor's accent could be an affectionate tribute to Dick Van Dyke in Mary Poppins, and the trail of clues left for his character to unravel the deadly conspiracy is unmistakable.

Polanski polishes the lacklustre material and his impeccable style creates the illusion of suspense where our steady pulse tells us there is none. Former British Prime Minister Adam Lang (Brosnan) takes up residence in a remote, state-of-the-art beach house on the American coast, far from the prying lenses of the media.

The statesman intends to write his memoirs, but when his current ghost writer dies in suspicious circumstances, Lang hires another nameless Ghost (McGregor) to restructure his prose.

The politician's loyal and sexy assistant, Amelia (Cattrall), and his savvy wife, Ruth (Williams), keep an eye on the Ghost and distract him from the arduous task at hand. When Lang is accused of sanctioning torture during his time in office, the Ghost witnesses a media storm and the subsequent clamour to repair Lang's reputation.

The writer puts his skills to good use, helping Amelia draft a press statement robustly denying the allegations.

At the same time, the Ghost attempts to solve the mystery of his predecessor's demise.

The Ghost is a routine thriller elevated by Polanski's direction and an A-list cast, who are never stretched. Brosnan channels the spirit of Tony Blair, while McGregor flashes his posterior during an emotionally cold bedroom scene.

Tom Wilkinson chews scenery late in the film in a Machiavellian supporting role.

The Oscar-winning director orchestrates some terrific set pieces such as the passing of a note from the back of a crowded room to the front. Politics may be a dirty business but Polanski's film is clinical and precise.

Cut to the chase: which mower should you use?

Is your lawnmower too big, heavy and cumbersome? Do you have trouble manoeuvring it round those awkward little corners or up and down steps to get to your grass? If so, it may be time to trade it in for a new model.

If you have a small lawn, being able to move your mower from one place to another is just as important as speed and cutting efficiency.

With this in mind, Which? Gardening, the Consumers' Association magazine, has just revealed the results of a survey in which researchers put the smallest and cheapest lawnmowers through their paces in small areas of grass, simulating a small back lawn with obstacles including a post for a clothes line, a small island bed, an awkward entrance and a mix of curved borders and corners.

It found that wheeled rotary mowers are the best

by Hannah Stephenson

choice for those with small patches of grass, as they can be wheeled to the lawn, collect clippings well and are easy to push around obstacles.

Hover mowers, which ride on a cushion of air, are also popular as they are light and easily manoeuvrable. However, they don't collect clippings, which can be a pain if your kids use the lawn and then tread all the clippings into the house.

You can buy hover mowers with a grass collector, but Which? Gardening found that they are hard work to move around, especially if the grass box is full, and you have to push them in a straight line to collect the clippings.

The survey, which focused on the smallest (28-33cm wide) and cheapest (under £100) mowers, gave Flymo the thumbs up, with its £60 Venturer 32 wheeled rotary mower being voted best buy. It left a neat, striped finish on the short grass, thanks to a roller between the rear wheels, and performed well in the manoeuvrability tests.

Others which also fared well included the Flymo Pac a Mow (£90), a rotary mower which was best at cutting a typical lawn, although it was on the heavy side at 16kg, while the Flymo Micro Lite, among the cheapest at £40 and the lightest at 4.5kg, also scored well, although it doesn't collect the clippings.

The recently launched Gardena Powermax 32E (£90), a wheeled rotary mower, was also among the best buys and did well in all the tests, cutting right up to lawn edges, and comes with a well-balanced carry handle, a single lever to adjust the cutting height and adjustable handle height.

Anyone who is creating a new lawn space this spring should design it with mowing in mind. Consider whether you are going to be able to get a mower to all those lawn edges and try to incorporate curves to eliminate corners in your lawn so you can run the mower right around the edges easily.

If you have a corridor of lawn, or a narrow area of grass running alongside a path or bed, make that patch of lawn wide enough to accommodate a mower or you'll never be able to cut it properly.

Think about obstacles. If you have to have a washing line in your lawn, sink the base so that you can mow over it.

Make sure your lawn surface is slightly higher than adjacent beds and paths, so you can run the mower over the edge, which will save you having to do extra trimming of lawn edges later on. Some people incorporate brick or stone borders around their flower beds, set slightly lower than the lawn, to separate the grass from the flowers and make mowing easier.

Test run: Which? Gardening put a series of lawn mowers through their paces to see which performed the best for different types of gardens. CP

A row of bricks or slabs can also be useful if your lawn butts up against a fence. Again, they should be laid slightly lower than the lawn surface, so you can mow over the edge.

The full report on the best mowers appears in the April issue of Which? Gardening.

In each of these puzzles a famous or popular quotation fills the grid. The individual letters remain in their correct column, but have fallen out and are out of order. Reinsert them in the correct order to find the answer. Any punctuation is given in its own square. This political insight is Coco Chanel.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

WHO TO NOTIFY:

- ☐ Banks.
- ☐ Building Societies.
- ☐ Credit companies.
- ☐ Insurance companies.
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and Water Boards.
- ☐ Telephone company.
- ☐ Local Authority (Rating Department).
- ☐ Driving Licence authorities.
- ☐ Inland Revenue.
- ☐ Store cards and accounts.
- ☐ Other lease, hire or rental companies.

Seat offers cheap route into Eco-range

... and Vauxhall adds rental option

AS the successful UK scrappage scheme fades into memory Seat is launching an innovative new retail offer that lets buyers who missed out save not once, but twice.

The exciting Eco-nomics initiative delivers savings of up to £2,000 off the RRP of selected Seat Ecomotive models – the Spanish maker's cleanest, greenest cars.

And by trading out of an older, more polluting model into a clean, green Seat Ecomotive buyers can then look forward to further significant savings as they spend less on their day-to-day running costs.

For instance, the pioneering scheme suggests buyers of a new generation Leon Ecomotive SE – which features Seat's new 1.6-litre TDI powerplant with common rail fuelling, Start-Stop technology and Energy Recovery system – can, including the RRP discount, save a total of more than £4,300 over a typical three-year/ 45,000 mile ownership period.

And that remarkable

CO2 figure is all the more impressive when you consider that the original Ibiza Ecomotive, launched here just three years ago, had the very same CO2 rating despite its lighter weight and significantly smaller size.

So, Leon Ecomotive SE buyers keen to take advantage of Seat's clever new Eco-nomics offering will see the list price of the car slashed from £18,045 to just £16,045. Meanwhile Ibiza Ecomotive buyers opting for the super-green supermini in either SC or 5dr form could qualify for a customer saving of £1,250 off the cars' RRP, which currently starts at £12,790. The Eco-nomics discount therefore makes the revised RRP for the Ibiza SC Ecomotive just £11,540.

Meanwhile Murketts is offering Vauxhall customers some spring cheer with a new and innovative way to drive their latest cars.

Based on a Personal Contract Hire (PCH) scheme, buyers may now take advantage of a low initial outlay followed by affordable monthly payments, says Murketts. For example, a new 2010 Corsa SXi is available through the scheme for just £189 per month, with an initial rental of only £567, making one of the UK's most popular cars even more affordable.

The programme, which can be based on either a two, three or four year agreement, removes the anxiety of making a cash purchase and suffering depreciation, while allowing customers to replace their car after a set period with no disposal concerns.

Better still, as part of the offer Corsa SXi customers will benefit from free metallic paint, VED and Vauxhall Breakdown Assistance for the duration of the agreement.

Other Vauxhall models are also available on competitive PCH terms, confirmed Murketts.

"With the Government's 'scrappage' scheme now at an end, car buyers are still on the look-out for affordable ways of getting into a new car," said Mark Smith, Murketts' sales manager. "Vauxhall's new PCH scheme makes this possible while offering drivers the prestige of driving a new Vauxhall with the latest technology every two to four years."

Personal Contract Hire option: For the Vauxhall Corsa SXi.

Car's service history is vital

CARS are better built today than they have ever been. But, if you think that means you can skimp on servicing, then think again.

Here, we identify ten common tender spots on your car that any reputable dealer or mobile mechanic will help you look after, avoiding costly replacements.

Engine management: Because of emissions regulations and the subsequent introduction of catalytic converters, Electronic Control Units (ECUs) are now more complex than ever before. ECUs are generally sealed units and repair is often impossible.

Exhaust systems: Most cars that were manufactured after 1989 are equipped with catalytic converters. If they're not properly checked and maintained and your vehicle needs a replacement, it will hit you where it hurts the most – your pocket. (Because catalysts contain precious metals, replacements are very expensive).

ABS systems: These contain a brain, a master cylinder, a pump and wheel sensors. Sadly, all are prone to failure. If your ABS fails, even if your brakes are functioning, your vehicle won't pass its MOT.

Automatic gearboxes: Many of these appear to be trouble free. However, as the odometer reading increases, so too does the possibility of failure. Most automatic gearboxes are managed by complex electronic systems – which makes maintenance even more of a specialist issue.

Electronically-controlled heaters: Push button heating systems can often be found in many executive and prestige vehicles. Stepper motors control air directing flaps throughout the car and, should a stepper motor fail, the system will jam.

Unfortunately, the only solution is to remove the dashboard and replace the faulty unit.

Power-steering rack: You'll be pleased to know that Power-steering pumps and racks are generally very reliable. However, if they're not correctly maintained and they do fail, replacements can be very costly indeed.

Headlamps: Complex computer-designed lenses and fashionable styling have resulted in larger headlamps, while improvements in aerodynamics have made them more vulnerable to attack from debris. A damaged lamp can cost you your MOT certificate.

Nose and tail cones: Many modern bumpers are far too fragile to warrant their name. However, these complex plastic mouldings help to provide efficient cooling and stable aerodynamics.

Dashboard electronics: Computers, service indicators and other electronic units control vital functions as the temperature and fuel gauges. The printed circuit boards that are part and parcel of these units can, in certain cases, be unreliable.

Power accessories: Even the most basic car is nowadays fitted with electrically-powered convenience features. These include things like windows, door-locks, sunroof and mirrors. Switches, motors and mechanisms can fail with age and be difficult and fiddly to replace or fix.

Mechanics: You get what you pay for.

Pets Found

was found safe and well at 7.30 pm on Monday 19 April after three weeks. Thank you to all the residents of Stern Close, Bancroft Close, Fanshawe Road, Rustat Road and Lichfield Road, the staff at the Cambridge Veterinary Practice, to the many other people who have responded to my appeal and especially to the residents of Romsey Terrace who eventually found him.

Pets Lost

CAT. Black, few white hairs on bib, copper coloured eyes. Young neutered female. Microchipped. Lovell Road, Kings Hedges Road area. Substantial reward. 07886 007572.

LOST - REWARD

BOBBY URGENTLY NEEDS YOUR HELP TO GET HOME.

He escaped from his basket in the car park of the Cambridge Veterinary Surgery on Cherry Hinton Road, went over the rear fence of the building at 6.00 pm on Monday 29 March and was last seen in the grounds of the Scout Hut on Flamstead Road. He is 4 years old, has longish shiny black hair and a few white hairs on his chest. He does not have a collar but is microchipped. Potential sightings have been in the gardens around Flamstead Road, Bancroft Road, Sterne Close and Fanshawe Road but could be anywhere in the vicinity of Coleridge Road-Cherry Hinton Road-Davy Road-Rustat Road (including the cycle bridge), the recreational ground or the old Cambridge Water disused site. He may try to head home to St Bedes Gardens near Cherry Hinton Hall so may have moved further afield to Lichfield Road, Radekund Road, Greville Road, Mill Road areas. He may be taking shelter under bushes, sheds or outbuildings.

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

- Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.

- Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.

- Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.

- Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.

- Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details

Start off with your full name, address, date of birth, home and mobile phone numbers, email address and nationality. If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile

This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

Education and qualifications

List your qualifications and education history, with the most recent first. You don't need to list the grades for each exam you have passed unless they were exceptional results - simply listing the number and type of exams you've passed is fine. Also, list any relevant professional organisations you belong to and training courses you have been on.

Work experience

Start with your most recent position and work backwards, giving addresses along with start and finish dates. Set out your main responsibilities, duties and most importantly achievements, along with any skills you picked up or improvements you made while you were there. This is a really important section in your CV so make it count - but don't waffle.

If you have not had a full-time job before, detail any part-time jobs you may have held or any placement you have been on.

Other skills

Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies

Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References

Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be.

If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

- Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.
- Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.
- Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.
- Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

Battling Hundoon are hit by the Fear factor

HUNDON looked as if they had survived an early blow in their clash against Kershaw League Premier title-chasers Fulbourn, only to be submerged by a late second-half flurry.

Keeper Liam Cutts pulled a groin muscle and had to be replaced between the posts by midfielder Gavin Taylor after only 15 minutes.

Things looked to be on the up, though, for Hundoon – beaten 1-0 at Whittlesford United on Saturday – when they went ahead on the stroke of half time, Matthew Slater blasting home after being set up by Matt Fulcher.

Charlie Hughes went close to extending their advantage after the restart only for the Institute keeper to make a fine stop.

But that was as good as it got. John Fear got the visitors back on terms midway through the second half, Ben Mhishi put them in front and Fear again and Sean Frost completed the job.

Hundoon boss Brian Pilgrim said: "We didn't deserve to get hammered and if we'd gone 2-0 up, you wonder what would have happened."

Danny Hills struck twice in West Watting's 3-0 triumph at Cottenham on Tuesday.

Striker Jamie Jones had to wear the gloves for the hosts and he was beaten three times in the first 15 minutes with Paul Jenkin's effort sandwiched by Hills' goals.

Watting manager Mike Bavester said: "We started really brightly and it's all credit to the boys."

"We had three chances early on and put them all away – it's just a shame we couldn't have done that all season long."

West Watting lost 3-1 at home to Ely reserves on Saturday after Cody Frazier put them ahead.

It was her second ace – the first was just a month ago. » David Pipe took top spot in the midweek medal with 73-5-67.

Results – Division One: 1 David Pipe 73-5-67, 2 Chris Vince (junior member) 74-6-68, 3 Mark Stanton 81-12-69.

Division Two: 1 Stuart Haworth 87-17-68, 2 Mark Wells 86-17-69, 3 John Stokes 87-17-70.

Division Three: 1 Derek Olive 95-27-68, 2 Peter Mercer 94-24-70, 3 Jamie Morse 93-22-71.

» The club's ladies' side played their first Weston match against Rookery Park at home on Saturday, but lost 3-2. The return match in the singles matchplay, off scratch, competition is on July 1.

Result: Sue Carr lost 5&4, Karen Wilby lost 4&3, Mary Sail lost 2 down, Denise Walker won on the 19th hole and Jackie Condon won 4&2.

» Haverhill eased to a 5-0 victory in the friendly inter-club match against Seckford.

Rovers get own back

Haverhill Rovers 5

Shelford & Stapleford Strikers B 1
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-11

HAVERHILL Rovers produced a dominant performance to avenge their recent defeat at Shelford and Stapleford Strikers.

Identifying the fixture as a must-win game, Rovers were rewarded with an early goal from Jack Hunsden, which was soon followed by Chinno Nikem-Paul's superb solo goal.

However, they let Strikers get a toe-hold in the game after a quick break and needed some fine saves from keeper Lewis Cass to keep them ahead.

But with Rovers' midfield working tirelessly it was only a matter of time before they stretched their lead, the busy Hunsden adding his second to put the home side in control.

Man-of-the-match Jayden Bayford scored a deserved goal and Ben Bradman wrapped it up with a late header.

Histon 4 Withersfield 5
Cambridge and District Colts League, Under-13A

HENLEY Kennedy and Machai Tolosi scored two goals each as Withersfield shaded a nine-goal thriller on Sunday.

Sam DeMartino completed the scoring.

Castle Camps 5 Fulbourn Falcons 0
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-11A

CAMPS had to wait until the second half before polishing off a good Falcons side.

The only goal of the first half came from Owen Thompson, but the game became entrenched in midfield as both sides cancelled each other out.

However, the home side took charge after the break, their strong defence helping the midfield dominate, which in turn allowed the forwards to prise the Falcons' defence apart.

James Sams tapped in the second goal with Finlay Fletcher, Morgan Jones and Kane Robson rounding off the victory.

St Ives Rangers 1 Castle Camps 1
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-11A

A LAST-GASP goal from Brandon Westley snatched a point for Castle Camps.

He fired home from the edge of the box to salvage something from a poor team performance.

Camps started slowly, allowing St Ives to score after only five minutes, and it needed a half-time rocket to light the touchpaper for an improved performance.

However, although they created chances, they did not break through until late in the game.

Sawston Utd 1 West Watting 10
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-13C

BEN Murray and Jack Payne led the rout as West Watting went on the rampage against Sawston.

Two goals from Ryan Cooper and one each for Earle Lambert and Robert Foster finished off the emphatic victory.

Shelford & Stapleford Strikers 1 West Watting 4
Under-12 friendly

ANY fears Watting had against the team from a higher level were soon dispelled.

With their strong back four suitably supported by a hard-working midfield, Watting missed several chances before Ellis Wiffen broke the deadlock.

However, Strikers equalised while Watting were still buzzing over their goal and it took until early in the second half for the visitors to get back into their stride.

That was when Jack Harvey converted a penalty and, soon after Charlie Ellam gave them a two-goal cushion, Wiffen wrapped it up for Watting with his second goal.

>> Football: Ridgeons League

Louis Harper: His deflected shot gave Haverhill Rovers victory in the midweek clash against Newmarket.

King Louis

Harper settles derby

Newmarket Town 0
Haverhill Rovers 1
Ridgeons League, Premier Division

LOUIS Harper's deflected effort was enough to give Haverhill all three points in the derby at Newmarket on Tuesday.

His shot was deflected past Newmarket keeper Lee Hulyer in the 26th minute but it was a deserved lead for the visitors.

Paul Betson forced a good save from Rovers' keeper Matt Morrison but Paul Abbott almost extended Haverhill's lead just before half-time, only to see his shot saved by Hulyer.

James Lane and Steve Bugg went close for Newmarket in the second half but Rovers held on.

Haverhill continue their countdown to the end of the season with a home game against Histon reserves on Saturday and a trip to Felixstowe & Walton on Tuesday.

They finish the season at Hamlet Croft a week on Saturday against Walsham le Willows.

Cannon brings down Rovers

Debenham 3 Haverhill Rov 3
Ridgeons League, Premier Division

A MAKESHIFT Haverhill Rovers side let a 3-1 lead slip and had to settle for a point.

If fielding a weakened side was not bad enough, they were forced into an early reshuffle when Paul Hunt had to be replaced by Dan Edwards because of injury.

However, Rovers were ahead after 27 minutes when Louise Harper's shot into the bottom right-hand corner deceived the Debenham keeper.

The home side were level a few minutes later, Ian Gedney scoring from close range, but Rovers got their noses ahead again from the penalty spot in the 55th minute when Stuart Wardley was on the receiving end of a misjudged punch from the keeper. Shaun Banham fired home the rebound after his original spot-kick was saved.

And when Martin Westcott hammered the goal of the game – a 30-yard screamer – in the 63rd minute, the points looked destined for Rovers.

However, the introduction of Debenham substitute Dave Cannon proved to be pivotal. His first touch was to control a long throw and the second to put the ball into the net.

He headed the equaliser in the 88th minute, with another substitute, Edward Cussons, heading against the bar in the dying stages.
